

CALDWELL SCHOOL DESTROYED BY FIRE

City Sustains $100,000 Loss In Disastrous Blaze Gets Handsome Building Early Wednesday

For the second time in its history, Caldwell city school, on Second street, was destroyed by fire, which was discovered about half past four o'clock Wednesday morning. The magnificent structure, comprising the main building erected in 1894 and the large annex containing class rooms and the spacious auditorium built in 1910, were gutted completely. Four lines of hoses played by the city firemen for hours were unable to make the slightest impression upon the conflagration, which burned itself out. A drizzling rain, which had been falling nearly all night, had no effect upon the power of the blaze, it appeared.

The loss is estimated by school board officials at $100,000, with possibly insurance to the amount of $40,000.

School officials all think that the fire caught in the furnace room. J. C. Bowman, who was one of the first on the scene, says the fire was burning brightly below stairs, and could be seen thru nearly all of the cellar windows when he reached it and with others attempted to check it. Mrs. C. H. Pigg, living nearby on Second street, saw the blaze when she arose early, and quickly turned in the alarm.

The fire department responded quickly and for a time it was thought that the blaze would quickly yield to their efforts. However, it was soon discovered that practically the whole of the flooring and the foundation work on the first floor that was combustible, was on fire, and had been burning for some time. The blaze had plainly obtained great headway and had undoubtedly been burning for hours, unseen, before it made its presence felt, and was observed by early risers.

After fighting the big blaze in the main two-story brick building for an hour or so and then finding that it was impossible to check it there, the firemen turned their attention to the annex in the rear, which contained the auditorium. By this time, however, the blaze had eaten its way under the roofing and when Fire Chief Ben Daugherty attempted to force his way up inside the annex, he and his men were driven back by the heavy smoke, in which no one could live. School board officials sought to have the firemen take a hose to the top of the annex from the rear and fight the advancing flames from above. This, done in time, might have saved the annex, they thought. But a ladder sufficiently long could not be found to put a man on top of the annex from the rear, and with ingress by way of the stairs inside cut off later by the heavy smoke, all chance of saving the new annex went glimmering, and spectators had to stand by and see it gutted also.

There seemed to be no indication of incendiary in connection with the fire. Several men who got there at the very first were careful to give close scrutiny to the surroundings. Paper left in front of the big furnace door or something like that may have given the blaze its incipientcy, school officials said. Jasper Lane, a young man who has been doing janitor work, and taking care of the furnace since last Saturday, had not yet come to work. He says he left the furnace in good condition when he banked it for the night on Tuesday evening after close of school. Sam Jones, who has been janitor at Caldwell school for the past 15 or 20 years, has not been at work for a couple of weeks. He fell and badly sprained a limb and has been laid up. He had another substitute on duty for him for a week or so, but this man left and Jasper Lane has been looking after the furnace and janitor duties since then.

School officials say that they will be surprised if the loss does not reach $100,000. The main building, which was built in 1894, cost about $45,000 at that time, which builders say would mean $75,000 now. The sum did not include the furnishings and equipment, either it is said. The annex, erected in 1910 to take care of the constantly increasing attendance of children, cost $50,000. Councilman John Allman, who served on the city school board for almost a score of years before going on the council, said that at the time the annex was built, he urged that it be placed some distance away from the old building, as a measure of safety. However, it was found that it would be far more economical to operate in one large building, so it was added to the eastern end of the old building.

Will Endeavor To Keep School Work Going

Although the school home of 500 children has been destroyed, Supt. J. Howard Payne and the City Board of Education are planning to continue the school term, if accommodations can possibly be secured.

The average attendance at Caldwell school is 550 a day. Fourteen teachers handle this large number of youngsters. There were eight recitation rooms and the auditorium in the annex in the rear, making 20 recitation rooms in all in the whole structure.

There are about 125 pupils in Madison High School which now occupies the old Madison Institute building as the high school department of the public schools of the city and county. Four teachers are in the high school work.

Supt. Payne says that it may be possible to utilize the new gymnasium at the high school building to care for several classes; and a room or two at the High School building may also prove available. It has been suggested that perhaps the court rooms, upstairs and down, in the court house, might be available, and it has even been suggested that one of the tobacco warehouses might be used, as soon as sales are concluded.

Mr. Payne is very anxious to finish out the year's work of ten months, if possible, so that all students may receive the promotions they deserve. About seven months of the school year have already been completed. A meeting of the School Board is to be held at once to decide on steps to be taken.

CRAZY FARMER KILLS OFFICER

(By Associated Press) West Point, Ky., March 9.—C. F. Ferree, a farmer, two and a half miles from here, shot and instantly killed Constable W. H. EX-SENATOR PAYNTER DIES AT FRANKFORT

Former U. S. Senator Thomas H. Paynter, died at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home in Frankfort. He had been ill for more than a year. Bright's disease was the cause of death.

Members of the family were gathered at his bedside. Mrs. Morton K. Yonts, his daughter, of Louisville, and Pollock Paynter, a son, a farmer of Franklin county, were called to the home-stead sometime ago.

Senator Paynter was one of the state's best known men. Three terms as Congressman, two terms as Judge of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, and one term as United States Senator were his office-holding record.

Senator Paynter was 69 years old. He was born in Lewis county, Ky., a son of Eliza and Sarah Paynter. He was a student at Centre College in 1870 and 1871.

Senator Paynter married Miss Elizabeth Pollock, of Greenup, Ky., May 25, 1876. He was admitted to the bar in 1872 and had been active in the practice of law up until shortly before his fatal illness. He was county attorney of Greenup county, from 1876 to 1882, and a member of the fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third Congresses, 1889-1895.

Resigning from the 53rd Congress, Senator Paynter became Judge of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, where he served from 1894 to 1906. Senator Paynter defeated Senator Joe Blackburn in the democratic caucus of 1906 for the democratic nomination for United States Senator, was elected by the Kentucky legislature and served until 1913.

Says Retiring Attorney General of Liquor in Opinion Just Before Quitting Office

(By Associated Press) Washington, March 9.—The government is without authority to prohibit or limit the manufacture and sale or use of liquors, wine or beer for non-beverage purposes, according to a ruling of Attorney General Palmer on March 3, but which was made public only today. The opinion, one of the most comprehensive dealing with the prohibition question, expressly states there must be no limitation on the use of liquors, except that prescribed by congress in limiting ale and spirituous liquors to one pint for ten days. The question of limitation thus, the opinion said, is left to the good faith of the physicians.

Standardized Poultry Campaign Progressing

The poultry standardization campaign being conducted by the State College of Agriculture, is going rapidly forward, according to reports from various counties which are being received at Lexington. D. W. Martin, Henderson county agent, reports that farmers in his county have already ordered 6,705 White Wyandotte eggs for hatching purposes. More orders are expected to be received from farmers in this same county as the work progresses.

In Pulaski county where the standardization work first started seven years ago, farmers have received orders for 65,000 eggs to go outside of the county. These eggs will be used by farmers in neighboring counties in establishing standardized flocks. The work in Pulaski county is being carried on by three associations one of which is at Burnside, one at Somerset and one at Science Hill.

LEAVES $1,000 FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Mrs. Pauline Arnold's Will Makes Generous Bequest to P. A. C.—Others Probated

Bequests of $1,000 to the Centenary fund of the Methodist Episcopal church, and $1,000 to the Pattie A. Clay Infirmary of Richmond, are made in the last will and testament of Mrs. Pauline Fant Arnold, which was probated in county court here Monday. The will was in Mrs. Arnold's handwriting and was probated after proving by H. B. Hanger and Spears Turley.

Of her bequest to the Centenary fund, Mrs. Arnold said it was "to help evangelize the world for Christ, in sending the gospel to every creature." She asked that the money given to the Pattie A. Clay Infirmary be used to help build a new hospital, but if no hospital is to be built, the fund is to be used to build a new bath room for nurses, the room to be known as the "Pauline Fant Arnold Room," and to be fitted in the care and best judgment of Mrs. George D. Simmons.

After providing for other charitable bequests, and bequests of other property to relatives, Mrs. Arnold provides for the execution of her will to be in the hands of Col. H. B. Hanger, her son-in-law. The will is dated June 27, 1920.

The will of Mrs. Anne Crutcher Chenault, dated December 8, 1920, leaves all her property to her beloved husband, Cabell H. Chenault, and provides that he be her executor without bond. The will is witnessed by Daisy J. Reynolds and S. W. DeJarnette.

The will of Mrs. Bettie A. Denny, dated January 22, 1921, gives certain personal property and money to her daughters, Ruth and Nannie Norris Denny, and $5 each to her husband, John Denny, and her sons, Thomas, Killis, Goebel, and daughters, Bird Woods, Maggie Dickerson, and Pauline Tipton. The will is witnessed by Russell Turpin, Mrs. Jennie Deering and Mrs. Nannie Turpin.

The last will and testament of the late Dan F. Wallace, which was probated in February, leaves his entire estate to his wife as long as she remains a widow. It was written December 20, 1920, and witnessed by C. C. Wallace and Lillie M. Yeager.

COSTS SOMETHING TO FEED STATE'S WARDS

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., March 9.—Wards of the state in the three hospitals for the insane, the feeble-minded institution, the houses of reform and the two penitentiaries are going to have plenty to eat during the next three months, if the list of necessities compiled by the State Board of Charities and Corrections and submitted for bids is any criterion. Among the articles of food stuffs which bids are to be submitted March 13 and contracts awarded March 22, are: 26,500 pounds of navy beans, 15,500 pounds of coffee, corn meal 61,400 pounds, 19,975 pounds, and sugar 44,150 pounds.

Several scores of articles are listed to be purchased, delivery to be made at the institutions and payment to be in state warrants.

Besides beans, coffee, meal, figs and sugar, the inmates will consume among other things, 4,840 pounds of cheese, 17,150 pounds of dried apples, 7,778 pounds of grits, 6,165 pounds of cracked hominy, 8,329 pounds of macaroni, 12,832 pounds of rolled oats, 1,736 pounds of dried peaches, 2,224 pounds of baking powder, 1,589 pounds of cooking soda, 9,868 pounds of prunes, 4,250 gallons of table syrup, seven barrels of salt, 9,227 pounds of rice and 4,700 pounds of tobacco, the latter going only to the hospitals.

That the institutions will be kept clean is indicated by the fact that 10,400 pounds of washing soap is wanted as well as 11,300 pounds of soap laundry soap, 4,400 pounds of laundry starch, and 6,000 pounds of washing powders.

It is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence on the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

DRAGGING LAKE FOR MAN'S BODY

Lexington, Ky., March 9.—Searchers are dragging the reservoir lake here today for the body of Arthur McIntyre, 40, whose clothes were found on its banks this morning. McIntyre did not go to his home on the Versailles pike yesterday afternoon, and his wife today asked police to look for him. He had recently sold tobacco on the local markets for a low price, it is said.

There are 301 republican and 132 democrats in the next House.

Delightful Banquet At Hamilton College

The Kappa Delta Sigma Sorority of Hamilton College, Lexington, gave their annual banquet Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Lafayette Hotel. This is always most important and delightful for the members and is unusually beautiful upon this occasion.

The tables were arranged in the private dining room of the hotel and decorated with red carnations and asparagus plumosa. A red carnation was the favor with the name cards at each plate.

Mrs. Goodloe McDowell presided.

Miss Fern Ward is at home from Cardome Academy for a visit to her sister, Miss Anna Bell Ward.

IN THE MOVIES

Miss Anna Bell Ward, local manager of the Phoenix Amusement Company, has been greatly complimented by a large number of the better class of people of the programs she has been giving at her theatres the last week or so. Especially does she deserve commendation upon bringing such a picture as "Huckleberry Finn" which was presented Tuesday and again today at the local theatres. Huckleberry Finn is a picture which no one could criticize. It is as clean a scene as was ever thrown upon the screen and is recognized as among the best of Jesse M. Lasky's productions.

The house was crowded to the limit last night, and there is little doubt that a capacity house will witness this wonderful boyhood picture tonight.

A NEW MARK TWAIN

The Lady Jermyn was homeward bound from Australia with a precious cargo of gold and human lives. There were those on board who coveted the gold with all their souls and didn't give a rap about what happened to the lives as long as they got the gold. In fact, it was part of their plan effectually to block discovery and punishment for their crimes by making way with those on board. Just how they managed about carrying out their horrible plot and the consequences thereof are set forth in fascinating fashion in "Dead Men Tell No Tales" the Vitaphone special screen production of the famous novel by E. W. Hornung, author of "Raffles," which will be shown at the local theatres next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Black cats may have brought bad luck, but not to Bob Bellamy. He won Omar from "Home Brew" Hanson, first mate of the steamship Alexander, at cribbage, risking only $20 as his part of the bet. He thought the cat was worth about that much. Actually, the value of the animal and its strange collar was more than $30,000, and in the end Bob would not have given up what the cat brought him for thirty million. The story is told in "Diamonds Adrift," by Frederick J. Jackson,

Jack Holt, who plays the leading part of Lord Glenayr in the big Drury Lane melodrama, "The Best of Luck," the Screen Classic, Inc., production, which will be shown at the local theatres Saturday, will have several opportunities in this famous and thrilling play to be seen in feats of horsemanship riding, which is also, not so strangely, his favorite recreation.

"The New York Idea" is a divorce satire, filmed as a sparkling society comedy, but with an undercurrent of serious thought, none the less. It comes to the local theatres Friday.

Spring Beckons in New Suits

NEVER was a season more clearly interpreted in suits than the coming spring is. A survey of any representative collection of them leaves one impressed with this fact, and it is evident that designers have had it in mind in the choice of styles and colors, and that their interest is centering on new decorative features.

The straight and flaring box-coat modes with loose sleeves widening toward the hand, suggest balmy weather. They are made collarless or with small turnover collars, and they reveal a variety of styles in their embellishments. Many of them are embroidered, others adopt the new crepe ribbons or silk braid decorations, and an occasional model, running true to form in considering the Chinese inspiration of the style, show coats with bright applique borders made of pieces of colored silks in various shapes applied with needlework in characteristic Chinese designs. But embroideries in self color and braid or ribbon decorations are universally admired.

Not all embroidered suits limit themselves to one color in their embroidery, for many of them introduce either other colors or metallic threads in the design. A suit of this kind appears at the left of the two shown here with an elaborate pattern in self-color embroidery lightened by silver threads. In this model the skirt is a little shorter and a little narrower than the standard for the season, for manufacturers are inclined to favor the ideas of very young wearers—and others who hope to look youthful—by abbreviating skirts considerably. The sash of broad satin reveals the headway this feature of the styles is making and is given prominence by its width and long-fringed ends.

The bloused suit at the right is an elegant new arrival that will please those who like simple styles and smart lines. It dares challenge companions without any embellishment except the decorative rows of buttons on the coat and a fringed satin sash.

*Uppers cracked and one boot leaks.
Can't go to town until Saturday.
Next time I'll buy HOODS.*

THE uppers on most red boots crack very quickly when exposed to sun and air. While no boot can stand undue exposure, the Hood Pressure Process produces a boot exceptionally free from this objectionable feature. When you buy a red boot with a yellow label and the word "HOOD" on it, you are getting the latest development—an upper that will stand rough treatment combined with the newest tire-tread soles, which means long wear and good looks. "HOOD" is your guarantee.

Geo. L. Martin is Dead

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., March 9.—John J. Schulten, 78, a pioneer Louisville merchant, died at his home here today after a long illness. He was treasurer of the German Savings Fund Building Association for the looting of which George L. Martin, secretary, is now serving 10 years at Frankfort. Schulten was ill during Martin's trial and lack of his evidence prevented prosecution of Martin for embezzlement, a charge more serious than altering the books of a corporation of which he was convicted.

Judge Shackelford's

Court In Jessamine

Nicholasville, Ky., March 9.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. Prof. T. B. Threlkeld, charged with fatally shooting Arthur C. Demman last fall, has been continued in circuit court until March 16, on account of the illness of the defendant, who is confined to his bed.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Stephen Tudor, was continued until the June term, on account of the absence of Perry Davis, who is ill of pneumonia.

After assigning the cases for trial court adjourned until Wednesday, when the case of W. L. Glass against the Royal Insurance Company will be called. In 1919 a quantity of hemp belonging to Mr. Glass was burned while stored in a warehouse here and the insurance company declined the payment of the policy. Suit was instituted by the plaintiff for $3,086.76.

TURLEY SEES BULL
FIGHT IN PANAMA

The Daily Register asked its good friend, Col. R. E. Turley, before he left for Panama to visit his son, Major Turley, to write it some newsy letters of his trip and the sights. A letter the other day said that he had just witnessed a bullfight, in which the "bull, a trim little black fellow, with long, sharp horns, did the unusual and gored the matador." As the paper there had an account of it, Mr. Turley said he would just enclose a clipping so everyone up here could read about a real bullfight as told in the Panama press. Here's what the paper said—interesting reading—isn't it? Someone please tell us what it means:

El Matador Francisco

Rivera Suñre Uua Cogida

En la corrida que tuvo lugar ayer tarde en el coso de Vista Alegre, su hijo una cogida el conocido matador de toros Francisco Rivera, uno de los directores de lidia.

El momento crítico de este inesperado acontecimiento hizo cuando el torero entre los espectadores, pues todos suponían que el torero Rivera perecería bajo los cuernos del toro que la suerte le deparó.

Mas afortunadamente el mencionado torero fue salvado por sus peones e inmediatamente se le condujo al Hospital Sanio Tomas, establecimiento en el cual fue examinado y curado por el doctor Arjona. Esto facilitativo dictaminó que Rivera presentaba una leve herida en la region inguinal derecha.

La mencionada herida, na revisio caracteres graves afortunadamente, pues Rivera pudo inmediatamente tomar un carro a irse a casa residencia.

HERE'S WHAT HE SAYS
CAUSED SUGAR FAMINE

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 9.—Responsibility for the famine and plenty in the sugar industry during 1920 and the resulting fluctuations of almost 20 cents a pound in sugar prices within six months was laid upon "attempted government decontrol," in a speech today by Earl D. Babst, president of the American Sugar Refining Co., at the annual stockholders meeting.

This was an outgrowth, he said, of the passage of the McNary bill, prolonging the life of the Sugar Equalization Board, and the Lever act, "which continued the government's responsibility for supply, price and distribution of sugar throughout the year 1920."

"As a result of attempted decontrol, we have had famine and plenty, prices ranging from 4 5-8 cents to 24 1-2 cents for duty-paid raw sugar, with financial wreckage from producers to grocers, not only in the United States, but in Cuba, Canada, and many other foreign countries. More serious still, attempted decontrol on an empty shelf and the resultant panic, may profoundly affect all producing fields in Cuba and the United States."

New Dormitory At U. of K.

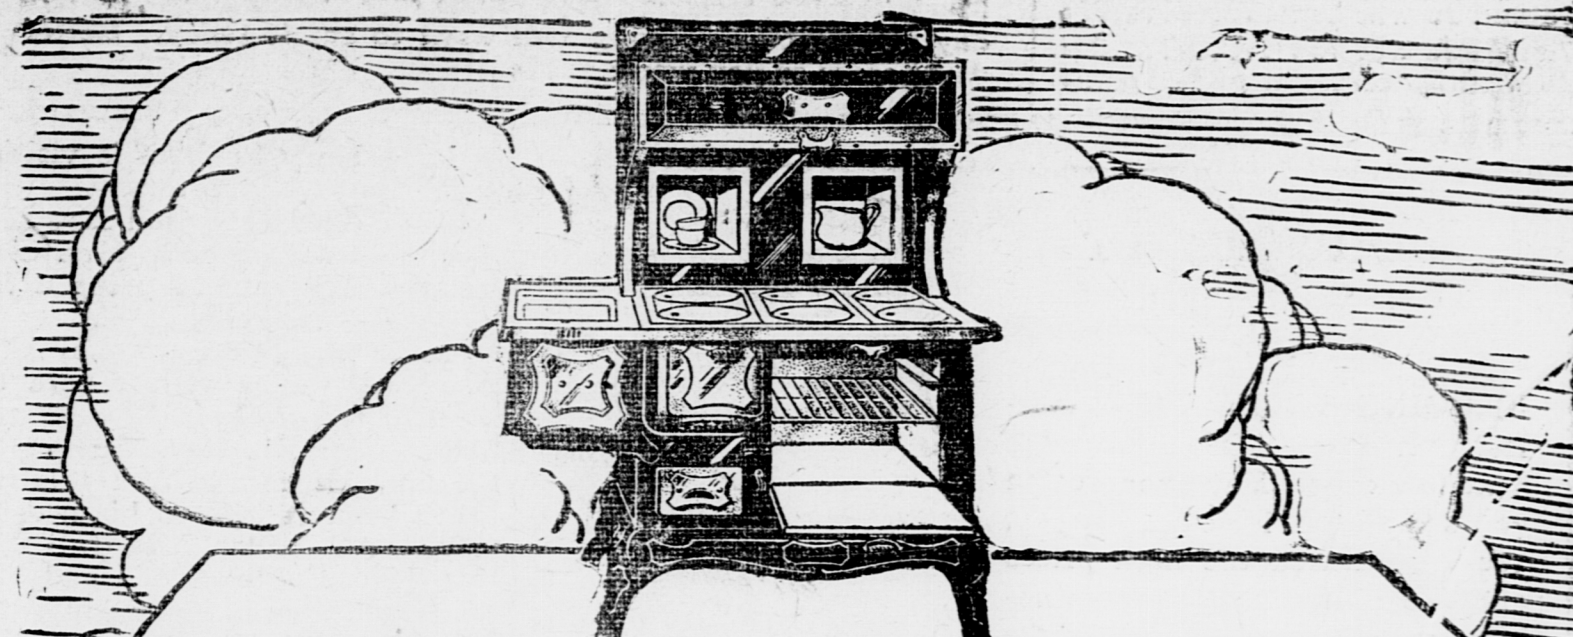

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, March 9.—Work on the $150,000 men's dormitory at the University of Kentucky, is rapidly getting into full swing, according to President Frank L. McVey. The excavation has been completed and part of the materials already are on the ground. The dormitory is expected to be completed by fall.

HERE'S NOVEL CASE
FROM ACROSS WATER

Brussels, March 9.—The question whether one person is guilty of a crime in hastening the death of another who is suffering from a mortal wound has been decided in the negative here in the case of a married man who shot and killed a girl who had attempted to commit suicide. His plea was that she was dying and that he killed her rather than to watch her suffer. He was arrested but acquitted of the charge of murder by the Brabant Court of Assizes. The man in the case was Jerome Hermans, 32 years old, and the girl was Coline Vandyck, 18 years old.

ANOTHER HELPING FOR ALL

The Whole Family Can Dine for a Day
—for a Dollar

From Grandpa down to "Buster," these delicious meats are thoroughly enjoyed by the whole family and, like Oliver Twist, they ask for more. Mother appreciates these meats most of all; because they are convenient to handle—they are quickly and easily prepared—there is no waste; and she can keep a quantity on hand for emergencies. She knows, too, that Uncle Sam's guarantee of purity is behind every can and that she pays less than pre-war prices for this nourishing canned corned beef and corned beef hash. Insist on your dealer getting you a supply of this wholesome food. There's a legitimate profit in the sale for him (wholesale prices listed below) and a considerable saving for you.

THE WHOLESALE PRICES

are printed below. They will give you some idea of what you will save on your purchases.

MINISTER SUFFERED THIRTY-FIVE YEARS

"I Intend to Recommend Tanlac the Remainder of My Life,"
Rev. Peter Hooser

"I would not take all the money in the world for the good Tanlac has done me," declared the Rev. Peter Hooser, pastor of a Methodist church on R. F. D. No. 3, near Huntington, W. Va.

"For thirty-five years I was a victim of indigestion. I lost my appetite and even the sight of good things to eat gave me a nausea. Gas formed on my stomach causing a choking sensation and violent palpitations. Often I had splitting headaches and at other times I would become dizzy and then drowsy and miserable. My sleep was fitful and often I would wake up with a start. I was so nervous any sudden noise would excite me. I had not felt well in so long I was greatly discouraged.

"Then I read a testimonial of Tanlac that gave me some hope. I bought a bottle and began taking it and the good effects showed before I had finished that bottle. Then I took six bottles in all and consider myself a well man.

"My appetite has returned and what I eat nourishes me. I have no more pains in my stomach and no more gas. The choking sensations, headaches, dizziness and drowsiness are all gone, my nerves are steady and I am full of new life and energy and enjoy my work. I intend to recommend Tanlac all the rest of my days."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton & Son; in Berea by the Welch Department Store, and at College Hill by Ginter Bros.

ASK SELF-DENIAL WEEK FOR CHINA

In line with the issuance of an appeal by the Southern Presbyterian church for the observance of the week beginning March 6 as a week of self denial, the Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, chairman of the China Famine Fund, has called on all denominations to join in self denial week.

It is the object of the China Famine Fund to raise money through this method for the 40,000,000 inhabitants of the five north central provinces in the famine area of China; the money saved by the omitting of luxuries from the family table to be donated to this cause. Through the China Famine Fund money is supplied to all the relief organizations in China.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, suffrage leader is the instigator of self denial week, having advanced the suggestion in a letter to Dr. Mullins. She advanced the elimination of only one table luxury from every American dinner table and estimated that through this method, if generally observed for a week, enough money could be saved to supply food for every refugee. Of the number of Chinese facing starvation, 18,000,000 are children.

Ex-President Wilson is actively behind the raising of the relief fund and Dr. Mullins and Joseph Burge, treasurer, were appointed by him in Kentucky.

American Minister Charles R. Crane, at Peking, Monday called the President that through the efforts of the American people grain already was moving from Manchuria to some parts of the famine area which covers 100,000 square miles. But the relief is only local, he says, and urges speed in collection of more funds. This money raised in America is cabled to China and immediately is used for the purchase of Manchurian grain.

Transportation difficulties have been overcome to a great extent, the American Minister reports, and 3,000 tons of food a day are now being moved. More than 6,000 tons of food is required daily, he states, and this quantity could be moved if the money was available.

Dogs have become as savage as wolves through the lack of food are reported by Minister Crane. Lieut. E. O. Bogart of the American Legation, who are constructing roads, says savage dogs have hampered the work. His telegraph report follows:

"Was attacked by dogs at Ky. Shui Pu and had to fire on them. He also states that their work is hampered by persons removing the stakes which mark the right of way, to use for firewood."

Lieut. Bogart recommends that the present force of marines be retained on the construction work, both because of the credit accruing to the legation guard and because the Red Cross has great need of them since foreign volunteers are scarce.

Madison Should Have One

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., March 9—During the past ten months the number of county farm agents in the state has increased from 45 to 60 and indications are that July 1 the state will have 75 agents, according to C. A. Mahan, of the extension department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. At present Fayette and several other blue grass counties are taking action to employ agents, he said.

Sixty counties in the state now have farm agents and ten of these have assistant agents, according to Mr. Mahan. Workers are being trained for county agent positions by first serving as assistants in some county of the state.

Health the Keynote to Beauty

Beauty means so much to women—power, social triumph, admiration and love. Beauty implies good health. Who ever saw a woman racked with pain, struggling with weakness or disease, who could be called beautiful? The woman of today in this high-strung, nervous age is continually overdoing, with results that ill peculiar to her sex develop which, unchecked, will ruin all chances for her happiness. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been recognized as a standard remedy for women's ills and has done much to relieve pain and restore good health to women.

Sheep Paid Mortgage Off

(By Associated Press)
Georgetown, Ky., March 9.—As a result of a human interest sheep story written by her, Miss Ada May Cromwell, chairman of the Seventh district, Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs, has been unanimously elected a life member of the Hampshire Sheep Association without dues, a privilege which it is said no other woman has ever enjoyed. The story was published in the American Sheep Breeder.

Miss Cromwell's story told how as the result at her home of a homeless stray lamb the idea was conceived by herself and brother, R. L. Cromwell, to raise registered sheep on their farm. And now, she says, instead of "120 acres of wornout Kentucky land, a flower garden, some scratchy hens and in a quaint fireproof box a copy of a mortgage, we have sheep and in the fireproof box we keep our registry certificates. We have no other use for it."

Sketch of Rev. Broadus' Life

(By Rev. G. B. Miller)

Rev. Thomas Howard Broadus was born in Madison county, Ky., a few miles east of the city Richmond, in the year 1840. Died at his residence in Richmond, on March 2, 1921. He professed faith in Christ during the days of slavery, about five or six years prior to the outbreak of the Civil War. His father, Rev. George Broadus, who was a Baptist preacher and at that time pastor in charge of the Viney Fork Baptist church (white) advised Howard and other converts to the baptised and join Viney Fork Baptist church instead of going to join the colored Baptist church in town. The young man Howard Broadus said he would think over the matter. So he went on thinking and hesitating over the matter about six years, going without being baptised or joining any church. Nevertheless he attended preaching and prayer meetings and would take active part in the services and occasionally would stand up and exhort sinners to sinners to come to Jesus and be saved.

His prayers and exhortations were attended by the power of God, by which many souls were happily converted and made profession of faith in Christ. Then in June, 1864, he volunteered in Co. A, 114th U. S. Colored Infantry. Owing to his influence for good over his company and his ability as a leader was discovered by the mustering officer, there T. Howard Broadus was at once promoted to duty sergeant of his company. April 5, 1865, he and his regiment, by orders, marched to Richmond, Va. The Confederate army under command of General Robert E. Lee, evacuated the city, and the Union army under command of General Grant, marched boldly in and through the city after the surrender of Gen. Lee to Gen. Grant.

Broadus and his regiment was ordered to Texas on duty as regulars. While the regiment was in camp near the Rio Grande river guarding the borders of Mexico, the dreadful disease cholera invaded the camp and a great many soldiers died. Thence the chaplain started a series of meetings from which a great revival started in which young Broadus did active praying and preaching.

So it seems that his heart was fired with the Holy Ghost and spoke words of scripture with great power. April 2, 1867, he was discharged from the army. He returned home and was baptised in Bronston's pond by Rev. M. Campbell. He joined the First Baptist church at Richmond. Shortly after which he was licensed and ordained to preach the gospel. First he was called to the pastoral charge of Otter Creek Baptist church near Red House, at which place he build a church house and did great service in that station.

Second he was called to the pastoral charge of New Liberty Baptist church. Third, he was called to the pastoral charge of Paint Lick Baptist church in Garrard county. Fourth, he was called to the First Baptist church at Berea, Madison county. Fifth, after the death of former pastor, Rev. M. Campbell, September, 1897, Rev. Broadus was called to the pastoral charge of the First Baptist church at Richmond, Ky. All of said churches prospered and grew rapidly under his pious administration.

Since the death of Rev. Campbell, Rev. Broadus had been elected and served annually as Moderator of the Mt. Pleasant District Association.

When all the land is paid for Camp Knox, outside of improvements, will cost $2,250.00.

WRIGLEY'S RULE FOR RESULTS

What William Wrigley doesn't know about advertising will have to be learned later. He took a nickel's worth of merchandise, added manufacturing skill, added selling genius, then added advertising.

And William Wrigley has chewing-gummed a flock of fancy fortunes out of the simple rule that he states thus:

"Tell 'em quick and tell 'em often. Advertising is like running a furnace—you've got to keep on shoveling coal. Once you stop stoking the fire goes out."

You notice that William Wrigley does not let the fire go out.

Persistence is every successful advertiser's middle name.
